

Top: Equal-sensation functions obtained by matching force of handgrip to various criterion stimuli. The relative position of a function along the horizontal axis is arbitrary. The dashed line shows a slope of 1.0 in these coordinates. Bottom: Equal-sensation functions obtained by matches between loudness and various criterion stimuli. The relative positions of the functions are arbitrary, but the slopes are those determined by the data. From Stevens (1966d).